RAIDS ARE MADE.

Quantities of Liquor Seized in Waikiki Resorts.

Waikiki was raided yesterday afternoon by the police. A sweep was made from Sans Souci to Saratoga. At all of the resorts crowds watched the operations of the officers in their search for liquors. A half dozen wagon loads of everything from champagne to beer is closeted at the station house.

Only one arrest was made. At Sans the services of a physician, all free of the result that John, the Greek steward, was arrested on the charge of Secondly, "To inquire in His Temple," Four solid barrels of beer, three open the instruction given be religious barrels of beer, several boxes and num- teachers. At Sherwood's the police got one barous bottles of various kinds of liquors. packages and bottles of spirits. The police acted merely under search warrants and were after liquor only. Except at Sans Souci no effort was made to entrap the persons having the stuff in possession. Proceedings will be taken against the liquor itself, under section 453, Penal Code, which prescribes, a limit upon the quantity of spirits a man may have in his possession. The persons claiming the liquor will be required to show cause why it may not be confiscated under the section of law named.

Deputy Marshal Chillingworth and Detective David Kaapa led the raid. They were assisted by Nigel Jackson, Gardner and Henry Espinda of the bicycle patrol and a couple of foot police. The raid, coming Sunday afternoon when the resorts are crowded, created no end of excitement. At some places the guests fled, fearing they might be called in court as witnesses.

And again & when a squad of soldiers sent to arrest & Him returned with the word "Never S" man spake like this man." He thought & that Christ could not be taken, hence his dismay and suicide when he awakened to the awful consequences of his doing. The devil always makes it appear to a man that in some way the wrong he wants him to do is right. Hence young people say "If I never do anything worse than this," at each step in wrong-doing to the end of a sinful life. There could have been no harm in the mere turning of a stone into bread, by the same one who turned water into wine.

The text shows At Patterson's resort there were one Him among humanity-the Democratic barrel of beer and numerous loose Christ. All nations, excepting the Hebrews, considered life very cheap, Only the priests and rulers were noble, they might even become gods, but all others were but as dust or burnt cinders. But Jesus gave the world a new conception of the worth of man. He considered man great not because of his wealth or station, but because of what he was or might be. He sought the poor and the ostracised not because of their social condition but because they were men. When man caught a conception of his own worth he began to seek for his true heritage. Thus the example and teaching of Jesus have overthrown slavery, have secured protection and care for children and youth and have elevated woman from the subjection and cruel treatment of man to be his equal and his companion. The democracy of Jesus will yet settle all human questions by securing the rights of all and ushering in one universal brotherhood. Let us hasten that day, by applying His teachings to our life and practice, for
